Two Thousand South African

Troops Rushed Home for the

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

LONDON, June 23.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The London steamer

Ratavia, with 2000 British troops on board, they having been sent to represent the army in South Africa at the coronation, has been racing from Cape Town, which port she left June 7, to get the soldiers here in time to take part in the pageant. The vessel passed

Lizard tonight, which was sooner than her owners expected her to arrive.

The troops will have the post of honor in the line of approach to Westminster Abbey, and will be the first to salute the King as he leaves the state carriage and enters the Abbey to be crowned.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

WASHINGTON, June 23.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Senator Quay tonight says he has two majority in the Senate for the passage of the Statehood bill for Arizona, Oklahoma and New Mexico. Senator Beveridge, chairman of the Senate Committee on Territories, says a majority of the Senate is clearly against the passage of the Statehood bill. To an observer, it is evident the lines are close now, although they may not prove to be close when the vote is taken.

Several Democratic Senators have pledged themselves to vote against the Statehood bill, to the lasting disgust of their Democratic associates, who had hoped to make it a party matter to vote for Statehood. While the President is in favor of creating these three new States, he is taking no active part in the fight before the Senate.

MATTERS ARE WARMING UP.

WASHINGTON, June 23.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] A motion was entered formally in the Senate today by Mr. Quay of Pennsylvania to discharge the Committee on Territories from further consideration of what is known as the Omnibus Territorial Bill,

a measure to admit as States the Territories of Oklahoma, New Mexico and Arizona. Mr. Quay spoke briefly, but forcibly, in support of his motion, maintaining that both political parties in national convention had pledged themselves to the admission to State-and that was devoid of importance.

He adds:

"The story he tells as to my claim, the ownership of twenty-six United States Senators, is simply a falsehood, and so absurd on its face that it is hardly worth referring to."

Rogers offered to come as a witness to the committee wanted him.

Richard P. Evans, one of the attorneys mentioned, denied some of the statements made concerning himself.

Rogers will not be asked to appear, but Chairman Daisell had written him a forward explanation of a dispatch which Chairman Rogers sent to Rogers, saying the negotiations were again on. The committee also talked over the report, and will reassemble later to pass on this branch.

FIFTY-SEVENTH CONGRESS. REGULAR SESSION.

BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.

WASHINGTON, June 23.—SENATE.

When the Senate convened today, a partial report on the Naval Appropriation bill was presented, and the Senate insisted on the amendment still in disagreement, and asked for a further conference, and asked for a further conference, and asked for a further conference.

A joint resolution was adopted authorizing the Secretary of War to receive Arturo Enciso de Costa Rica at the West Point Military Academy for instruction.

The Army Appropriation bill was laid before the Senate, and the members of Vermont moved to recede from amendment No. 13, relating to the construction of barracks at permanent military posts. After some discussion the motion was agreed to.

Mr. Allison called attention to the fact that the House had not agreed to the full and free conference asked for by the Senate, the effect of the action being to deprive the Senate of its right to at least two amendments of the Senate. He said by the motion of comity made by Mr. Proctor, the situation would not be cleared. He thought the Senate ought to recede from amendment No. 14, increasing the appropriation for barracks and quarters by $1,000,000.

Mr. Proctor moved that the Senate insist on the amendment. After some discussion the motion was agreed to, amended so as to insist upon the Senate amendment, including No. 14, the Senate conference, being asked for.

Mr. Proctor moved that the Senate insist on the amendment. After some discussion the motion was agreed to, amended so as to insist upon the Senate amendment, including No. 14, the Senate conference, being asked for.

Mr. Quay of Pennsylvania then formally entered his motion to discharge the committee on Territories from further consideration of the bill, and pointed out that both the Republican and Democratic parties in their national platforms had declared in favor of the admission of the Territories as States.

The Republicans of the House had acted, he said, and it remained for the Democrats of the Senate to make good their promise.

Mr. Beveridge of Indiana, chairman of the committee on Territories, said the committee, extension in general, to carry out its purpose to consider the bill at the next session, it being impossible to do so at this session, in consideration of this session as it ought to have.

BILLS PASSED.

BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.

WASHINGTON, June 23.—During the reading of the measure, Mr. Bailey of Texas offered an amendment providing that, in the event of a presidential election, the citizenship court should be authorized to revise citizenship judgments in cases of fact only, eliminating conclusions of law. The amendment precipitated an extended debate in which Mr. Bailey, Mr. Stewart and Mr. Quay participated.

The debate was interrupted by Mr. Proctor, who presented a partial report of the conference on the Army Appropriation bill. It was agreed to "two contested amendments were not included in the agreement."

The Senate then concurred in the House amendments to the bill, fixing the pay of the superintendents of the various lighthouse districts.

The following bills were passed: Providing for the resurvey of certain townships in San Diego county, Cal.; to provide for a record of deeds and other conveyances and instruments in the county of San Diego, Cal.; to pay Capt. J. F. McIndoe, Corps of Engineers, $1142 for services rendered in the construction of Fort Hancock in 1901; to amend existing laws relating to the disposition of lands in Oklahoma, so that the Secretary of the Interior may be authorized to cause to be expended out of the proceeds of the sales of town lots in Lawton, Oklahoma, $100,000 for the construction of waterworks, schoolhouses and other improvements in the town of Lawton, Oklahoma, and to increase the amount authorized to be expended for the construction of the places, $10,000 to $20,000.

Without completing the Indian treaty measure, the Senate, at 5:55 o'clock p.m., went into executive session, and soon afterwards adjourned.

HOUSE PROCEEDINGS.

BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.

WASHINGTON, June 23.—HOUSE.

Some routine business preceded the resumption of the debate on the Philippine Civil Government bill. Bills were passed to make Great Falls, Mont., the port of entry for the collection district, comprising Montana and Idaho; to authorize the Secretary of War to issue duplicates of certificates of discharge returned to the War Department; to extend the privileges of transportation of United States soldiers and sailors to the sub-ports of Tacoma and Seattle, Wash., to authorize the Secretary of War to bestow medals upon First Lieut. David S. Garvin, Second Lieut. E. B. Berthel and Surgeon S. F. Call of the revenue-cutter service.

A resolution was adopted calling upon the Secretary of War for information as to the number of soldiers and sailors who have been killed by Gov.-Gen. Wood of F. B. Thurber, and any other persons or corporations, together with the dates and amounts of such payments, for advocating reciprocity.

The consideration of the Philippine Civil Government bill then was resumed and Mr. De Armond of Missouri made a general speech in opposition to the policy of retaining the islands. He repudiated utterly the charge that the opposition to the present Philippine policy is showing some of the acts of army officers in the Philippines was slandering and assailing the army.

Recalling Mr. Kahn's statement last week, that in giving up a slice of northwestern territory upon the occasion of the Oregon boundary dispute, we had made a mistake which should not be repeated now, Mr. De Armond agreed that the surrender of the territory north of Washington on the Pacific had been a mistake, but pointed out that the territory was contiguous to our border, and was capable of furnishing homes for our own people and eventually coming into the Union as a State, while the Philippines, already densely populated by an alien people, could never be incorporated into the Union. The Democratic party, he declared, was not opposed to expansion, founded upon American principles. Expansion was one thing, colonial empire was another.

In conclusion, Mr. De Armond told of his presence in Havana, May 20, when the American flag was lowered and the flag of the republic of Cuba hoisted. To him, as an American citizen, he said, the sight was inspiring. "Far more inspiring," he said, "than the American flag has remained put in Cuba, and the faith of the American people violated."

Mr. Olmstead of Pennsylvania, who succeeded the present Secretary of the Navy as a member of the Insular Committee, followed Mr. De Armond. He summed up the situation in these words:

"The bill proposed by the minority means a complete renunciation by the United States of the duties and responsibilities which, in the providence of God, have been cast upon us. It means a cowardly retreat. It means that we shall be degraded and disgraced in the eyes of all the world. It means something that the American people will never tolerate. On the other hand, the bill which we support and propose to pass maintains the honor and integrity of the American people, enables us to carry out our treaty obligations, to maintain peace and good order in the Philippines, and to be more instrumental and effective in maintaining peace throughout the world. At the same time, it gives the Philippines to participate as fully as possible in the blessings of our republic, and of government, it gives them more independence of action, more of self-government and more of liberty than they have ever enjoyed or ever expected to enjoy."

Mr. Olmstead then took the floor, and under the latitude allowed in Senate debate discussed at some length the criticism of the rules of the House recently indulged in by Mr. Proctor. He said that the House, through the operation of the old rules and methods previous to the Fifty-first Congress, he said, the House had been powerless to transact business. He pointed out that in the Fifty-sixth Congress Mr. Cushman, as well as other critics of the rules, had voted to continue them in force.

The Committee on Rules of the Fifty-seventh Congress, he said, could not, by any stretch of the imagination, be accused of an abuse of power. It had never undertaken to strangle the voice of the minority, but to give it a fair hearing. The Committee on Rules of the Fifty-seventh Congress, he said, could not, by any stretch of the imagination, be accused of an abuse of power. It had never undertaken to strangle the voice of the minority, but to give it a fair hearing. Through the operation of the old rules and methods previous to the Fifty-first Congress, he said, the House had been powerless to transact business. He pointed out that in the Fifty-sixth Congress Mr. Cushman, as well as other critics of the rules, had voted to continue them in force.

oners at Andersonville, if the Union army got within seven miles of the prison.

He said the North was justly indignant over the atrocities at Andersonville, and interrupted Mr. Neville of Nebraska, who, adopting a plank endorsing Cuban reciprocity, if this be done, it will be against the combined protest of the entire California delegation in Congress.

While the House was in session, Mr. Richardson, "did not the Confederates consider the prisoners who were offered to exchange those prisoners, offered for officer and man for man? And was not that proposition rejected?"

"Yes, but the men in Andersonville were broken, emaciated; many of them maimed. The North refused to exchange those men for men who could not perform military service," replied Mr. Mahon.

You sent the South to support the government in prosecuting the war in the Philippines," interposed Mr. Neville. "Why do you now seek to besmirch the South?" responded Mr. Mahon. "I only desire to show that Sherman declared that 'war is hell.'" among California delegates as to California's attitude on reciprocity. It is said that an attempt is being engineered to have the Republican State Convention at Sacramento, next August, adopt a plank endorsing Cuban reciprocity. If this be done, it will be against the combined protest of the entire California delegation in Congress.

At 5 o'clock the House took a recess until 8 o'clock.

TOO MUCH CORONATION.

McFadden Put Out by Ben Jordan.

Walcott Wins a Slow Fight from West.

Whitney Buys High-priced Horses—Results of Races and Ball Games.

LONDON, June 23.—(By Atlantic Cable.) The coronation of King George V. was knocked out by Ben Jordan, the English pugilist, in the fifth round at the National Sporting Club here tonight.

The bout was held in connection with promotion spring tournament, and spectators afforded the habitues of pugilism an opportunity to witness a struggle, Jordan, the Englishman, started in a pronounced favorite. It was anybody's fight up to the fourth round, when Jordan showed prominently with a series of blows at McFadden's body. In the twelfth round McFadden knocked the Englishman down, but the latter arose apparently unhurt. After this Jordan landed in some tremendous hitting, and fifteen seconds before the close of the fifteenth round he knocked McFadden out with a fine cross, which landed clean on the point of the jaw. McFadden was still unconscious at the end of the full count.

The pace was terrific throughout the contest, and McFadden made a resolute fight, but Jordan was always a head better on points, and the referee would have decided in his favor, even if he had not landed a knock-out blow. McFadden was second and Taylor of Paris third. "Tom" Linton, the English cyclist, lost touch with his pacemaker several times and withdrew.

Call wins the suit, nothing further will be needed to defeat Gov. Gage for nomination. The Governor has put up a good big bluff.

"Want No Such Load as Gage." (Corona Courier.)

Gov. Gage has commenced his libel suits against Spreckels and Latta of the San Francisco Call and Gen. Ota of the Los Angeles Times. If this device fails Gage for re-election it will be a wonder. He probably had some show while he was in office. Conservative men the party will want no such a load as Gage will be to carry through a campaign, and they will evidently look for a safe man to nominate. No Oregon methods for California, please.

Gov. Gage as a Prospective "General." (Daily Californian.)

Suppose Gov. Gage should win his suit against Gen. Harrison Gray Otis for $100,000 damages for libel. (Probably would have to take the money in payments for the next five years.) Then having obtained the justice of his cause he could proceed to take the Call, the Times and all the lesser newspapers. As the owner of newspapers Mr. Gage would then have a rival, not even excepting William Hearst, and he could then proceed to sell up large bunches of "news verlage" that might be sold upon to put his enemies to rest.

His Actions Do Not "Pay." (Wittless Journal.)

It would seem that if Gov. Gage had been so grossly libeled he would have demanded an investigation and not way down to a justice of the peace in a far-off county to file his case against J. D. Spreckels and Gen. Ota. The city of San Francisco is where the crime, if any, was committed and there would have been the place to file his papers. The action of the Governor is not in keeping with his protestations of honesty.

"It Would Best Be Governor." (Herald Tribune.)

Gov. Gage has sued the Los Angeles Times for libel, placing the amount of damages at $100,000. If he can get a verdict for that amount it would be being Governor all hollow, and he would probably be a good crop of stars right along.

"The Triumvirate." (San Bernardino Free Press.)

If Gov. Gage really wishes to win the people of the State of California, that he is earnestly endeavoring to push his libel suits against the "unfortunate" he should at once devote to ping pong.

REFUSE TO BID.

American Firms Object to Competition With Japanese Company for Macadamizing Contract.

BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS. HONOLULU, June 23.—(Wire to San Francisco, June 23.) As a result of a decision by Rear-Admiral Henry H. Rogers, in charge of the naval station here, the Japanese company which he will allow a local Japanese company to offer bids for a macadamizing contract at the station, the local firms have refused to bid for the contract. The Japanese company is in competition with the Hawaiian Macadamizing Company, which is a local company. The Japanese company is a subsidiary of the Japanese Macadamizing Company, which is a subsidiary of the Japanese Macadamizing Company.

Kaiser's Train Shot At.

PARIS, June 23.—(Exclusive dispatch.) According to the Kaiser's train was fired at by a German soldier on the German frontier to Düsseldorf. The bullet pierced the first-class compartment. The police are investigating.

PUT THE MAYOR OUT.

MANVILLE (O.) June 23.—Mayor James J. Holden was forcibly ejected from his office today. The Mayor had asked that an affidavit against a woman charged with intoxication be withdrawn, and on account of the judge refused, he insisted that the judge order the Mayor arrested. During the melee the Mayor struck the Chief on the jaw, and the Chief landed on the Mayor's head with a club.

ROSALENE TALKED TO HIGH SCHOOL.

PART OF ROSALENE A STRING OF MARVELS.

Frank to Hear the Celebrated Actress in the Character of the Girl of Her Favorite Roles, She Modjeska talked at the High School yesterday afternoon. She wore a fluffy gray summer dress, and carried a bouquet. Her name came from the Star and Herald, and nearly 200 other people crowded into the main room to hear her.

Some years ago, in our column about "Rosaline," we said that Mrs. Modjeska was sitting under the oak tree in my hand. It was a little book of Rosalinde. I had finished reading it, and I was sitting at my desk, and I was writing a sketch of one of my favorite characters. I was sitting at my desk, and I was writing a sketch of one of my favorite characters. I was sitting at my desk, and I was writing a sketch of one of my favorite characters.

A GLOWING FORECAST.

The Arid West Redeemed—An Arizona Journalist's Pervid Praise of President Roosevelt, the Land Redeemer.

President Roosevelt has approved the irrigation bill. It is, therefore, a law of the land. This is tantamount to saying that the Arid West is redeemed. This act of Congress and the President has opened the way for a vast agricultural empire in the Rocky Mountain region.

At one stroke of his pen Abraham Lincoln set free 4,000,000 black men. With one stroke of his pen Roosevelt has made it possible to reclaim 100,000,000 acres of land to agriculture, adding millions of American farm homes, with their vast volume of agricultural products, which will flow from this rich area of land redeemed from the desert.

No law has been passed since the foundation of this government which has done so much for the people in general and for the future of the United States as this.

No law has ever been enacted which will add so much stability, wealth, happiness and general prosperity to the people and the government as the national irrigation bill which was recommended, urged and approved by President Roosevelt.

With the approval of that bill Arizona makes a great bound to the fore. It makes her valueless arid lands worth millions. It opens the lands to thousands of farmers, who will establish themselves upon our fertile irrigated lands. It will give us the much-to-be-desired population and citizenship in such large numbers that the tillers of the soil will be a great power and influence in the Union State. The wealth of our mines can be more profitably mined, as the cost of supplies will be much reduced. The product of the soil will be the rival of the products of the mine and the range. Taxation will soon go down to the minimum, because of the large increase of taxable property. And as Edwin Arnold, the great English scholar, said years ago, Arizona, with irrigation will become the most densely populated area of any part of the United States. That prediction comes true with the approval of the irrigation bill by the President.

The arid West has much cause to rejoice. Arizona has more cause than all or any other section, because of our favored climate, as every day of the year is a day of seed time and harvest. The benefits are too large to contemplate. They cannot be estimated.

There are now $6,000,000 available under the provisions of this law. What does the investment of this sum in irrigation mean? Billions of agricultural products in return. And as these large and increasing revenues come in from the sale of lands, the fund will continue to increase and the area of land reclaimed will also increase the marvelous result.

Behold the vista which opens to the people of this region. Here is a new field for the most hopeful speculation. It cannot be that any human mind has yet been able to estimate the far-reaching, the fruitful results which will follow in the wake of this national irrigation law.

Lincoln has been immortalized because he freed the blacks. Roosevelt will be immortalized because he has done that which will set free from the thrall of the congested center of population millions of families, who here and will feel grateful to him and his memory, as they sit under their own vine and fig tree and enjoy all the comfort and contentment of their farm homes.

run the entire gamut of color and are shown in almost countless patterns and weaves. Even this stock does not escape the price reductions of our June Clearance Sale. Note the two items below, which are selling at half the former price:

Bonita Pongee.
The soft pliable nature and the fine silky finish of this fabric place it in the highest rank and bring it into close harmony with the graceful draping materials that are far more costly. The designs and colorings are in accordance with the most advanced taste and are especially appropriate for street and house wear. 30 inches wide, former price 35c. Sale price 15c.

French Organdy.
This exquisite production has assumed a prominent place among the gauzy textures, and in this offering we present a choice selection of the latest color effects in white and tinted grounds overlaid with floral designs and novel figure patterns. 30 inches wide, former price 50c, sale price 25c.

Sea Island Madras.
No words can be spoken to enhance the high estimation of this desirable production. It is a strong, durable texture and presents in design and finish the attractive features of the more expensive qualities. We can safely venture the assertion that this is the strongest attraction in cheap shirt waist materials. 28 inches wide, former price 15c, sale price 7c.

SPECIALS FOR CHILDREN.
Next Friday we will have a special sale of wearing apparel for misses and children which will be remarkable in many ways. Particulars in Thursday's paper.

THE CITY IN BRIEF.

NEWS AND BUSINESS.

Fractured His Arm.

While playing in the yard of the Olive street school yesterday, Willie Greenball, who lives at No. 125 South Grand avenue, fell and fractured his left forearm.

Traffic Delayed.

The breaking of an axle of a loaded street sprinkling wagon on San Fernando street near the viaduct, yesterday morning completely blocked the tracks of the Downey avenue street car line. For half an hour passengers had to be transferred around the broken wagon.

Spilled Shade Trees.

Some vandals destroyed all the young shade trees planted along the Pico street side of the Alvarado Terrace tract, Saturday night. President Powers of the Council, who is building a fine home on the tract yesterday offered a reward of $25 for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the culprits.

Run Down by Milk Wagon.

Simon Verneum, who lives at No. 718 Center street, was treated at the Receiving Hospital yesterday for injuries received by being run down by a milk wagon on Aliso street near Alameda. He was crossing the street and the driver of the milk wagon said later he did not see him. His injuries are very painful, but not dangerous.

Needle in Her Throat.

Ruth, the two-year-old daughter of H. C. Sparks, of No. 728 South Main street, was taken to the Receiving Hospital Sunday night suffering from a needle in her throat. The baby was playing on a needle and found it. Childlike she tried to swallow it and it became imbedded in the muscles of her throat. Police Surgeon Pierce removed it with a pair of forceps.

Sergeant Morton Dying.

Police Sgt. S. G. Morton, who was struck by a milk wagon Sunday on a street car in slowly driving at his home on Wall street, between Eleventh and Twelfth. Only once since the attack has he recovered consciousness and then only for a short time. The physicians who are attending him said last night that his death was only a question of time and he is believed to be slowly sinking.

Who Hit Him?

A. Walters applied at the Receiving Hospital last night for treatment for severe injuries about the head and face, received in a fight near the corner of First and Main streets. He did not know the man with whom he had had the trouble, but admitted that he had been fairly whipped. His injuries consist of a fractured jaw bone and numerous cuts and bruises about the face.

Mrs. Burdette Invents.

J. R. Collins has sold to Mrs. Robert J. Burdette, 40210 feet, on the east side of Main street, between Fifth and Sixth streets, North two lots and the Burbank Theater, with two small cottages, for $24,000. Mrs. Collins bought the property several weeks ago from H. J. Wollast. The deal was made from the latter to Mrs. Burdette direct, at the request of Mr. Collins.

A daring grapple with a runaway horse was made yesterday on Spring street between Sixth and Seventh, by Ralph Green, driver for the Golden Gate laundry. The horse had broken his driver with a broken thumb and was dashing down the sidewalk like a cyclone, when Green sprang at his head, caught the bridle and subdued the crazy beast in the midst of a scene of terror, "whence all but he had fled."

Injured by a Fall.

Mrs. C. A. Henderson of Riverside was painfully injured yesterday at the home of her sister, Mrs. J. H. McNeal, No. 1215 South Figueroa street. She had just arrived from Riverside to visit her sister and while crossing a room stumbled over a sofa and fell, striking her head against a bureau. Two deep and long gashes were cut in her forehead, one of them severing a large artery and causing the loss of much blood. No permanent consequences are anticipated, but she will be confined to her bed for several days.

Second-Street School.

The class exercises of the Second-street school will be held this evening at Boyle Heights Methodist Episcopal Church. An interesting musical programme has been prepared, in addition to the address by George W. Simonson, representing the Board of Education, and J. H. Francis, principal of the Commercial High School. The graduating class was entertained by Principal B. W. Reed, Friday evening, at his home on East Twenty-eighth street, the time being spent in music and games. Refreshments were served. A feature of the evening was the rendition of school songs out of doors.

Two Injured in Collision.

A peculiar accident happened at 4:10 o'clock yesterday afternoon at Third and Los Angeles streets which resulted in the injury of two men. Simon Graff attempted to drive his wagon across the Traction company's tracks in front of an approaching car. The car struck the wagon, throwing the driver out and throwing the wagon against another vehicle which was standing in front of a carriage repair shop. Myer Bacon was under this second vehicle and was caught in the wreckage, sustaining severe internal injuries and numerous cuts and bruises. Graff escaped with less serious injuries.

Southwest Improvement.

The Citizens' Southwest Improvement League held a largely-attended meeting at Wilson's Hall last night. A two-mail-a-day service and more boxes are to be worked for. The improvement of Vermont avenue, it was reported, will now proceed without any material delay, the petition being already in the hands of the chairman of the Board of Public Works. The improvement of McClintock avenue, between Thirty-seventh and Thirty-eighth streets, is to be requested. Members of the Park Committee are working vigorously and it is hoped to soon secure a public playground in this part of the Fifth Ward.

Ed Dorman All Right.

Ed Dorman is grateful for the many kind offers of his friends, but he is not in need of any help, thank you. An erroneous dispatch from Madison, Wis., announcing that the well-known turfman and hotel manager was "dying in poverty," has caused his mail to be filled with offers of assistance from his many friends. Yesterday he started in answering the letters, declining the offers and explaining that the shocking statements about his health and finances were "away off." Dorman was formerly proprietor of the Nadeau Cafe and in the hotel business elsewhere has won a wide acquaintance. He has been in ill health for several months, but is now about recovered. He and his wife are now residents of Los Angeles.

Butted into Death.

Two runaway horses butted into sudden death at the Aliso street railroad crossing yesterday. They were attached to a telephone wagon and had been hitched on Los Angeles street, by an experienced driver. He had taken off the bridles and put on the nose-bags, so that the team was not fastened by the bits. Something startled one of the horses and they bolted off down the street. At first they went at a little jog; then they began to increase their speed. By the time they turned the corner and swept into Aliso street, they were at a mad gallop and the wagon slid around the corner on two wheels. They went down Aliso street to their doom like a whirlwind. The guards at the Alameda-street crossing were not down and a train backed across the street just as the team tore down the grade. They were going too fast to stop and slammed headfirst in the train, at a dead run. With one jolt they were both dead.

BREVITIES.

The Times Cook Book. The recipes in the cook book are not only practical, but something out of the ordinary, and appear to meet the approval of the ladies, the demand for the recipes in bound form continuing. The book contains 60 pages, with 450 recipes by California housekeepers, and includes full directions for preparing cookies, puddings, salads, pies, picnic luncheons, Spanish dishes, candies, etc., and other fruit preserves, and is for sale by The Times and its agents at 15 cents per copy; 4 cents extra if mailed.

There are undelivered telegrams at the Postal Telegraph Cable Company, No. 228 S. Spring st., for Mrs. I. E. Taylor, Walter D. Walsh and H. M. Mashev.

WAS HOSPITAL CHAPLAIN.

Death of a Remarkable Character at the County Hospital—Had Been Actor and Victim of Drink.

One of the results of the recent County Hospital investigation was the death yesterday morning of Rev. John H. Smith, a deacon of the Bethlehem Institutional Church, and there is sorrow today in many an Eighth Ward heart that has known the kindness and felt the love of a devoted life. Funeral services will be held at the Bethlehem Church this afternoon. The cause of death was epilepsy, superinduced by the hot weather, and was the result of the fact that he had been subpoenaed as an important witness in the recent hospital case before the Board of Supervisors.

The deceased passed away at the County Hospital, where he had been an inmate for more than a year. An interesting and rich in his career. Full of events, rich in experience, wide in travel, powerful in his good, he lived in a public hospital, where the man came penniless and absolutely without relatives to attend him. He lived to be 76 years old, having drawn his first breath in England. Educated for the Catholic priesthood, he became infatuated with the stage, and before taking his orders ran away from school to become an actor. For years he followed the profession, touring England and the Continent, making not a few successes, and, taking his life in his hand, he often spoke of his acquaintance with the great actors of his day.

His is the same old story of drink—it got the best of a strong man, and for years he was worthless in his weakness. But one day, in England, he drifted into the hut of a fisherman down by the sea, and signed the pledge. Since then he has never drunk a drop, and has been a strong, capable, and temperate. After abandoning his cups, he went back to the stage for four years. In his lightful Welsh humor, and brought into the Salvation Army in his earliest stages. At about that time he became the warm, personal friend of Gen. Ballington Booth, before the latter became the soul of the great militant movement. Gen. Booth, who was a pulpitier of the Primitive Methodist Church in England, induced him to undertake the same work—which he did with success. His evangelical meetings for Spurgeon in England, and for Moody in America, were noted in his lifetime.

Fifteen years ago, Mr. Smith was a prominent preacher in Manchester, Ireland, remembers meeting him there at that time. For the last few years, Mr. Smith has been gradually breaking down, and came to this Coast to build up. After working in San Francisco and Stockton, and other northern cities, his epileptic attacks became more frequent, and he had to come south. He came here in 1919, and immediately to the County Hospital, where he acted as a chaplain, and served his community in the management of the department of the hospital. Soon after his arrival here he became identified with the work of the Bethlehem Church, and was widely known.

Friday night he told Rev. Dana Barrett that he was rapidly nearing the end, but on Sunday evening he was able to lead the meeting. The next morning he was found dead in bed. He has a son in the Primitive Methodist Church in England, and Mr. Barrett will communicate at once with English correspondents that the son may know of his father's end. Money was raised yesterday for funeral expenses, so that a county burial will not be necessary.

This tribute was given by Mr. Barrett to the memory of the departed last night: "Grand man—splendid man! We'll miss him. He had a great hold on our people here."

RAILROAD RECORD.

Death of Andrew Smith, Assistant Superintendent of Santa Fe Telegraph Service—New Officers Elected.

Andrew Smith, assistant superintendent of the Santa Fe telegraph service, died yesterday morning at his late residence, No. 124 West Eighth street in this city, after an illness of about a month. While out on a tour of inspection, he was overtaken with a relapse. The deceased was about 64 years old, and had been in the telegraph service since a boy. He had been with the Santa Fe at Los Angeles for a good many years, and came to Los Angeles about a year ago. George H. Crosby, secretary, has sent out notice of the election of new officers for the Choctaw, Oklahoma and Gulf Railway Company. Viz: W. B. Leeds, president; George H. Crosby, secretary, and F. E. Hayne, treasurer. This line is about twelve hundred miles in length, and has recently been acquired by the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific Company.

ANOTHER HOT ONE.

The Weather Observer Says It is Coming—Some of the High Records of June Days Gone By.

It was pretty hot yesterday, but June wasn't doing its best. Been hotter this time of year.

It was the hottest day this month, however, at two wheels. They went down Aliso street to their doom like a whirlwind. The guards at the Alameda-street crossing were not down and a train backed across the street just as the team tore down the grade. They were going too fast to stop and slammed headfirst in the train, at a dead run. With one jolt they were both dead.

The weather observer reassures the jaded shirt-waist man that all the central part of the State and most of Nevada is just as hot.

By unanimous vote the Board of Water Commissioners yesterday decided to conduct its department independent of any other branch of the city government.

Acting Mayor Powers, in a special message to the Council May 6, which was referred to the board, recommended the collection of water rates by the City Collector or Treasurer.

After enumerating briefly the suggestions in Mr. Powers' message, the report says: "The analogy and comparison which Mr. Powers makes between the collection of taxes is not a just one."

"Another radical distinction between the work of collecting the taxes and that of the collection of water rates is that the first are collected substantially immediately, while the water rates are collected monthly."

A tabulated statement of salaries of employees, occupied in whole or in part in collecting water rates, shows the total monthly cost to be $202.54, against Mr. Powers' statement giving it as $250.

"The committee," says the figures "show the interdependence of the different branches of the water office, as at present carried on, as well as the ineffectiveness of the comparative estimate."

"Your committee is at a loss to understand how Mr. Powers arrived at the $250 figure, which estimate as the monthly cost of collecting the water rates. Even including the salary of the superintendent of the operative department, which is not to have done, would not account for it."

It is only reasonable to suppose that he had not carefully estimated the character of the work done by the different employees of the department."

IMPROVEMENTS FIRST. The present system of fixing and collecting the water rates is the result of thirty years of experience on the part of the officers of the private corporation which formerly performed the quasi-public function of administering the water system of the city. The system and methods, such as they are, are familiar to our people; our city has grown from 4000 to 125,000 inhabitants under that system, and it may well be doubted whether any immediate radical change would be acceptable to the people at large.

It is generally recognized that the ability of the municipality to preserve the methods of enforcing collections, not practicable with private corporations, suggests possible reforms in administration, such as dispensing with house-to-house collections; but this change demands in turn the reduction of rates to a basis which would reduce the income of this department to the cost of maintenance, interest and sinking fund payments. Our present rates produce more than this, and they are maintained for the specific purpose of making absolutely necessary betterments to the plant in the direct interest of the rate payers. It would be unjust to institute the method of quarterly or semi-annual payments during this period of high rates, as it would also be to counsel monthly payments at some central office of the lower rates.

EVERHARDY LOST HIS BATHING TROUSERS.

STUCK ON A RAFT AND COULDN'T GET ASHORE.

Pathetic Plight of a Fat Man from Los Angeles at Terminal Island—It Was Hard Work Making His Toilet on That Raft.

"Mat" Everhardy, a well-known Elk of this city, had the misfortune to lose his bathing trousers at Terminal Island last Sunday. A crowd of several hundred people were interested spectators of this sad incident.

The loss was considerable from any standpoint. Mr. Everhardy is a healthy gentleman. He has to put in 2 cents in the patent weighing machine, and the indicator spins around and stops with a shudder a good way past the 200-pound mark.

On Sunday Mr. Everhardy swam out to the life raft and was gambling upon the planks with sportive glee, when another fellow got on the same side of the raft, and it tipped up. Mr. Everhardy slid like an avalanche into the deep blue sea, leaving his bathing pants behind on a sharp corner of the raft. They peeled off him like a banana skin.

Before he could recover them they had slipped off into the briny deep and sunk. The other fellows on the raft saw Everhardy's predicament, but thought nothing of it at first.

Finally it occurred to one of them that Everhardy was staying in the water a very long time. He asked him why he didn't climb back.

"I can't," said Everhardy, shivering. "Oh, yes, you can," said the other man cheerfully. "I'll help you."

He thought that Everhardy was doubtful as to his ability to climb up. He reached down, Good Samaritan as he was, grabbed hold of Everhardy and started to pull him in.

"Stop!" yelled Everhardy. The other man was instantly alarmed. "Help, fellows!" he shouted. "Everhardy has a cramp."

Two or three of them grabbed hold, and despite his breathless struggles, were pulling him up onto the raft, when Everhardy shrieked: "Stop! I haven't any pants on."

There was a double kerfuffle as two lady swimmers hastily plunged into the water and struck out for shore. They must have sounded the alarm on shore, for hundreds of people gathered on the beach, and watched Everhardy with fascinated gaze.

Everhardy skated round the far corner of the raft, and begged and pleaded for some kind soul to swim ashore and get him a pair of trousers. At last some one took pity on his plight.

THE most interesting building operation in Los Angeles was completed yesterday, when plucky Mrs. Harry Gordon, a sun-browned woman of 30 years, and the admiration of East Los Angeles, started the foundation of her new house with her own hands.

The "plucky woman in California" has been many times discovered, but the genuine article is living on Darwin avenue.

Decried by her husband, she says the bills, starts a home of her own, runs a vegetable farm, and is now digging a cellar, handling pick, shovel and wheelbarrow in a way that would make many a man feel ashamed of himself.

An old-soldier neighbor said, with unfeigned admiration, yesterday: "Oh, I tell you, she's a fine one; she'll get along. You ought to see her when she's fixed up. I want to tell you."

MRS. HARRY GORDON. You, she's a mighty fine-looking woman."

And the old soldier "spoke by the book." Mrs. Gordon stood talking to a lady who had come to buy some vegetables. She was clad in an old, loose-fitting wrapper, which failed to hide her fine figure. Her bronzed arms were bare to the elbows, and she laughed and chatted like a young girl. Her home is the Mecca of the children roundabout, and a constant stream of customers came to buy vegetables yesterday. Every body calls her just plain "Gordon."

DEMOCRATS GIRDING UP.

County Committee Will Meet Saturday.

Registration of Voters is Too Slow.

Some Kinks in New Primary Law for All Citizens to Master.

Col. Daniel Neuhart, chairman of the Democratic County Central Committee, has called a meeting of the full committee for Saturday afternoon next at Turner Hall Annex, No. 321 South Main street. The meeting is for the purpose of adopting a call for a county convention, to appportion the delegates thereto, and for the transaction of such other business as may be brought up.

SLOW REGISTRATION. Procrastination is the thief of suffrage rights, and County Clerk Bell is exerting every effort to prevent the robbery of voters. In addition to the registration bureau at the Courthouse, he has appointed forty-two registration deputies in various parts of the city, and many more throughout the county. Notwithstanding this preparation, he says voters are very apathetic, and apparently are content to let a few persons control the primaries.

Of the estimated 26,000 voters in the county, 16,045 had registered at the close of last week; less than one-third of the entire number of those 11,955 were in Los Angeles; and if the remaining 10,000 expect to take part in the primary election August 12, they need not hurry to get their names on the list. The latest probable date for registration is August 2, ten days prior to the holding of the primaries.

Of course, if the voter has no desire to take part in the nomination of candidates, he can let the primaries go by the board, and then, if he registers before September 24, he may vote at the general election.

There has been some doubt as to the necessity for registration before August 2 in order to gain the right to vote at the primaries, but San Francisco has been decided that this necessity exists, and it is likely that a similar ruling will be made in Los Angeles county.

Safety lies in immediate registration, and this is according to the opinion of the law. It is expected that they will embrace the opportunity to protect their rights.

The law contemplates that every voter in the county shall register at the Courthouse in Los Angeles, and this is manifestly impossible, both for the voters and for the office force. Every voter who registers at a registration bureau has been opened. The principal one in Los Angeles, outside of the main office at room 3, Courthouse, is at the entrance of the County Hall, where many registrations are made daily.

UNDER THE NEW LAW, the primaries for every party are to be held on the same day, August 12, at the same place in every precinct; separate ballots being provided for each party. In other words, these primaries may be conducted properly, the Great Register must be complete for each precinct, hence the desire for immediate registration. As a vast amount of clerical work is necessary. If voters register at the last minute, they increase the labor of the clerks in the compilation of the records, and endanger their privilege of voting for delegates to the county and State conventions.

Registration of every voter before August 2 will guarantee his rights both at the primary and general elections, and as the usual summer heats will set in within a few weeks, it is expected that those who are interested in self-government will avail themselves at once of the opportunity to register.

The City Hall and Courthouse registration booths are the most central, but deputy registration clerks, who are paid 1 cent for each name they obtain, are located in the outlying districts. Some of them are: Anson Miller, No. 420 Vernon avenue; Alexander Wood, Twenty-seventh and Vernon; P. E. Rhodes, No. 1213 West Washington street; E. P. Large, Twenty-fourth and Washington; George Williams, Jefferson and Wesley avenue; Rufus H. Frost, 3625 West Pico street; and every voter who registers at a registration booth, whether or not he has registered before, Registering before August 2, he will be able to vote at the primary election August 12, also at the general election. It is easier to register now than to put it off until the minute, when the usual crowds will surround the registration booths, and by so doing the voter may have trouble for himself, but will cause the wheels of the election machinery to run more smoothly.

AS TO CANDIDATES. Candidates for delegates to the Republican county and State conventions, whose names will be voted on at the primary election, will be selected at caucuses to be held in each precinct in the county, the State convention caucuses being held August 8, and the county convention caucuses August 9. Other political parties will hold similar caucuses at dates to be named later, and the candidates of each party will appear at separate ballots at the primary. Voters will have the privilege of writing or pasting the names of other candidates on the ticket voted.

KENTUCKIANS SHOOT STRAIGHT. MIDDLEBORO (Ky.) June 23.—In a fight at Cabin Hollow, five men were killed, between rival fire keepers, Henry and James Shackelford, brothers, were killed, and Smith Overton, Timmerman, and a third man, whose names were not known, were fatally wounded. The Shackelfords are believed to have been killed by Luke Hopper, of the opposing side. Overton belonged to the Hopper gang. More trouble is expected. No arrest has been made.

PRESS CLUBS' CONVENTION. BOSTON, June 23.—The International League of Press Clubs will hold its annual convention in Faneuil Hall this week, beginning Tuesday morning. The incident looked forward to with the greatest interest is the banquet at the Somerset on Wednesday evening, which President Roosevelt will be a guest.
